1.0 Satellite Dish Policy

Policy Goals: The purpose of this policy to bring the satellite dish policy at Bridlewood Pointe of View into compliance with the bylaws of the condominium. Installation of satellite dishes at Bridlewood Pointe of View is not permitted.

Section 1 History: The year one board allowed satellite dishes to be installed on temporary mounts such as tripods and Bolt-on mounts on the balcony railings. The year three board updated this policy to provide specific guidelines as to what was permitted. They restricted the use of satellite dishes to two approved providers, Bell Expressvu and Star Choice.

Section 2 Bylaws: The bylaws are specific with regards to the use of satellite dishes in the Bridlewood Pointe of View complex. Section 58 (b) (ix) of the bylaws state that “No television, mobile telephone, radio antenna, tower, satellite dish or appurtenances or appurtenances thereto shall be erected on or fastened to any Unit or common property except in connection with a common television antenna or cable system as authorized by the Board, and then only in accordance with regulations therefore which may be established by the Board”.

Section 3 Review: The present policies do not comply with the bylaws of the Bridlewood Pointe of View Condominium. The board must only create policies that are in full compliance with the bylaws. Should a board wish to change the bylaws they must do so through a full vote of the owners in the complex and not by creating a policy that conflicts with the bylaws. The boards erred in creating these policies; all requests to mounts satellite dishes should have been denied.

Section 4 Remedy: Effective Feb. 24, 2009 the installation of Satellite Dishes at Bridlewood Pointe of View will be banned as required by the bylaws. Existing dishes that are in compliance with the previous policy, that is legal dishes from Bell Expressvu or Starchoice will be grandfathered until the unit where the dish is mounted is sold or the tenant currently leasing a rented suite leaves. All other dishes must be removed within 30 days of the effective date of this policy.

Section 5 Enforcement: Failure to adhere to all the regulations set in this policy will result in the owner of the suite being fined $250. Failure to implement any board orders including removal of a dish will result in additional fines and action as the Bridlewood Pointe of View Condominium Corporation Board sees fit.

2.0 Garbage Enclosure Dumping Policy

Policy Effective Date April 1, 2007

Policy Goals: The board has observed on numerous occasions persons dumping old furniture and other unwanted material in our garbage enclosures. This has resulted in a large cost to haul it away that has now reached thousands of dollars. Our garbage enclosures are not to be used for the dumping of unwanted goods and materials. If it is not garbage that is appropriate to the provide garbage dumpster and placed in that dumpster the resident is responsible for the disposal themselves, and may not leave this material in the garbage enclosures.

Section 1: Garbage Enclosure Policy: All garbage must be placed in the provide garbage dumpster. Only garbage that is appropriate to the garbage dumpster may be placed in it, all other material is the responsibility of the resident to have removed. For example, sofas, furniture, large appliances, mattresses, and other such materials are not appropriate to be placed in the garbage dumpster, and may not be left in the garbage enclosure under any circumstance. All garbage bags must be placed in the garbage dumpster and may not be left on the garbage enclosure floor.

Section 2: Policy Enforcement: Any person dumping any furniture, unwanted junk, empty bottles or containers, or any other material or refuse not appropriate to the provided garbage dumpster will be fined up to $250 per incident. Any person leaving garbage on the floor of the garbage enclosure will be fined up to $250 per incident. In addition, if it is necessary to hire a third-party company to remove said material the owner of the unit will be billed the full cost of the removal. No warning will be given and collection will be undertaken if the owner does not pay said fines and bills within 60 days of their receipt by mail.

Section 3: Rented or leased units: Should the person violating this policy be a tenant in a rented or leased unit, the owner of the unit will be held fully responsible for any fines or bills levied under this policy.

Section 1: Pet Refuse: We require all dog owners to take their dogs off property to use the bathroom always, regardless of the weather conditions. Balconies and patios must not be used as bathrooms for pets. Any owner failing to follow this policy will have their right to own a pet within this complex removed by the board.

Section 2: Disposal of Pet Refuse: Pet refuse must be wrapped properly in plastic and placed in the dumpster in the Garbage Enclosure. Any owner placing their pet refuse in the lobby, stairwell, or parking level garbage cans will have their right to own a dog within this complex removed by the board.

Section 3: Enforcement of Policy: Any owner failing to comply with this policy will be fined $250 and the cost of cleanup or repair required to any facilities or grounds within the common property of the complex. If the board removes an owner or tenant's right to own a pet within this complex and the animal is not removed the owner will be fined $250 per month that animal remains on the property. If the animal's owner is a tenant of a rental or leased unit, the actual unit owner will be fined. No warning will be given, and collection will be undertaken if the violator does not pay all fines within 60 days of receipt by mail.

Section 4: Related Bylaws: All residents should also be aware that our bylaws require all dogs to be on hand leash and under control of their owners always when they are on common property, including in front of any first-floor patios. Residents living on the first floor are not permitted by our bylaws to install dog runs or tie out stakes, temporary or otherwise, or all allow their pets to remain unattended on their patios. Residents on the first floor are also reminded that the grounds in front of and adjacent to their patios are not their personal property and there are not to be used as bathrooms for their animals. Enforcement of these bylaws will be as described in section 3 of this policy, and any other remedy as the board may deem necessary.

Section 2: Capital Investment Limit: The Capital Investment Limit shall be at a maximum 1.75% of Total Annual Budget. The board may extend this limit to 4% in a single year by making approving a motion at regularly scheduled board meeting. At no time, shall the board exceed 4% of budget for Capital Investment without a special resolution approved at a general meeting of the corporation.

Section 3: Project Sponsor: Every project shall require a project sponsor. It will be the responsibility of the project sponsor to manage the project, obtain costs estimates, prepare the project proposal, guide the project through it's lifecycle to completion and report regularly to board as to the project's status.

Section 4: Project Process: Projects must align with annual June budgetary process. Projects will follow this systematic process to get approval for investment:

Step 1 The Idea: Project Idea is presented to board, and motion made to assign sponsor and proceed to Investigation Stage. This can generally occur from June to March in the calendar year for consideration in the next year's budget.

Step 2 Investigation and Proposal: Sponsor investigates feasibility of project, develops the project specifications, obtains costs estimates and prepares the project proposal for presentation to the board for approval in the annual Capital Investment List. All project proposals must be in writing; verbal only presentations can not be approved. Projects must be approved at this stage no later than the March regular meeting of the board.

Step 3 Capitalization: The treasurer of the board prepares the capital investment list and calculates the total Capital Investment Cost of the proposed projects, and the Capital Investment Limit based on the previous years total budgeted dollars. The treasurer presents this report to the board at the April meeting of the board. Should the cost of the projects exceed the Capital Investment Limit the board must by motion remove enough projects to bring the cost under the limit, or raise the limit as directed above.

Step 4 Approval: Two thirds of the board members must approve the Capital Investment List presented in Step 3 at the regular April Meeting for it to be included in the upcoming year's budget. This is also the final opportunity for board members to propose the dropping of any projects from the list. Failure to gain approval means that these projects cannot be considered for investment in the upcoming year.

Step 5 Budget and Publication: The treasurer presents the Capital Investment List if approved to the Property Manager for inclusion in the upcoming budget cycle no later than 7 days after the April regular meeting of the board. The property manager will be directed to publish the Capital Investment List along the regular annual budgetary mailing that is sent to all owners of the corporation.

Step 6 Implementation: Project Sponsors may begin implementing their projects no earlier than July 1 of the calendar year or as directed by the board. The board shall ensure projects are scheduled throughout the year to ensure the financial integrity of the corporation. The Treasurer shall monitor the costs of the project to ensure they do not exceed estimate costs. Project sponsors shall provide regular updates to the board until project completion.

19.0 Frozen Heater Pipe Policy

Policy Goals: The purpose of this policy to establish the assignment of responsibilities with regards to water leak events from the baseboard heating system due to frozen valves and pipes.

Section 1 The Problem: Frozen heating pipes and valves can result in significant inconvenience to unit owners and units adjacent to them. It can also result in significant costs to unit owners, can seriously impact our insurance rates, and represents a risk to the condominium's budget.

Frozen heating pipes can only occur due to exposure to freezing air temperatures. This is most commonly because of open suite windows. It can also occur due to facilities that are not maintained in good condition; for example, a window that is leaking cold air in significant quantities.

Section 2 Owners Responsibilities: The Condominium Corporation expects all residents to make prudent efforts to protect the heating system from freezing. Every owner or their tenants has the primary responsibility for preventing frozen heating valves and pipes. Suite owners and their tenants are responsible for but not limited to the following items:

- Owners and tenants are responsible for keeping their windows and patio/balcony doors closed tightly when outside air temperatures are below freezing to prevent pipes and valves from freezing.
- Owners and tenants are also responsible to report in a timely fashion issues in their suite that may allow freezing air to enter the suite so that repairs can be undertaken; for example, a window that is leaking cold air in significant quantities.
- During heating season owners and tenants are responsible to ensure their suite is checked daily for leaks and cold air ingress if it will be vacant for more than 96 hours. Failure to perform these checks will be evidenced by continued lack of pressure in the heating system with no complimentary report of a leak from a suite owner or tenant.
- During heating season owners and tenants are responsible to ensure all windows and patio/balcony doors are closed tightly every time they leave the property.
- When an event occurs, the suite owner and/or their tenants are required by the bylaws to provide access to their suite. Failure to provide access will result in a locksmith being hired to gain such access.

The suite owner or tenants are required to fulfill these responsibilities. Frozen pipes will not occur if these responsibilities are met. Should a frozen pipe or valve occur because of a common property issue which the owner or tenant has reported in writing to the property manager at least 7 days prior and no action was taken to correct it, the owner or tenant will not be held responsible.

Section 3 Chronic Risk: Should a suite as determined by the board be identified as an ongoing risk to the well being of the Condominium due to leaving their suite's windows or balcony/patio doors chronically open when outside temperatures are freezing, the board will first issue a warning letter to the owner of the suite in question, and failing that rectifying the situation the board may issue fines of $250 per incidence.

Section 4 Cost Assignment: The board through the common insurance policy which covers such events and may make claims upon this insurance where it deems necessary and prudent. The Costs of an event will be assigned as per the following:

- Should an event occur, the Condominium Corporation's insurance policy will cover the cost of repairs and remediation less the policy deductible. Should the board consider that negligence of the owner, residents, tenants, agents, or their guests was the cause of the event then the board may at its discretion take legal action to recover all costs not covered by the Insurance policy as well as any costs associated with the legal process. The board will if it is so feasible, attempt to settle the issue directly with the owner of the suite prior to filing a complaint with the court. This will be done by a letter from the appointed property manager or legal representative.
- If during the work required to repair, remediate, and restore the property after an event occurs should any suite owner, their tenants, their guests, or tenant's guests impede access to the property such that additional costs are incurred the full additional costs will be charged to the suite owner's account.
- If during the work required to repair, remediate, and restore the property after an event occurs should any suite owner, their tenants, their guests, or tenant's guests interfere with equipment used to perform such functions any additional costs that are incurred as a result will be charged to the suite owner's account.

Suite owners and tenants are advised to carry their own condominium or tenant insurance and request Water Escape endorsements from their insurance agents. While the board cannot compel suite owners and tenants to carry such coverage, many insurance companies will cover your portion of the costs of an event like this minus your personal policy deductible. Suite owners and tenants are advised to talk to their insurance agent if they require further information on such coverage.

An owner or tenant that is considered responsible for an event may also incur additional liability. Should the rates or deductible increase for the Condominium Corporation insurance policy as the result of an insurance claim being made to cover an event where the suite owner or tenant is considered negligent by the board, the Condominium Corporation may also take legal action to recover these additional costs from the suite owner.

The Condominium Corporation is empowered and required by bylaws 45(f) and 46(i) to make these cost recoveries. These bylaws state:

Bylaw Section 45(f) An Owner shall indemnify and save harmless the Corporation from the expenses of any maintenance, repair or replacement rendered necessary to the Common Property or any Unit by his act or omission or by that of any member of his family or his of their guests, servants, agents, invitees, licensees, or tenants, but only to the extent that such expense is not met by the proceeds of insurance carried by Corporation.

Bylaw Section 46(i) of the bylaws state "PROVIDED THAT in the event any use of any Unit shall lead to an increase in the fire or other insurance premiums otherwise payable on the insurance obtained by the Board, the party causing such increase shall be liable for payment of same to the Corporation or individual Owner, as the case may be and such increase may be collected by the Corporation by adding the same to the Common Expenses allocated to such Unit Owner;"

Section 5 Rental Suites: Rental Suites can represent an additional risk in a frozen pipe situation. Suite owners who are renting their properties are fully responsible for managing their tenants in all aspects of the rental relationship. The Condominium Corporation, its designated Property Manager and Agents do not provide any tenant management services whatsoever. Should a frozen pipe event occur in a rented suite whether reported by a tenant or by other means, the Property Manager will attempt to contact the suite owner via telephone at least two times, and will also inform the suite owner with a written letter mailed via standard postal service. The rental suite owner is responsible for ensuring access, and performing their responsibilities under this policy as if they were a resident owner.

Section 6 Repair, Remediation, and Restoration Services: The Condominium Corporation will provide contractors to repair the frozen pipe and will provide contractors to remediate the damage that was caused by the water escape. This remediation may include the removal of flooring, wall and other materials that are damaged or present a mould or fungus risk to the property. Prior to removal of any materials a board member if available must inspect the site and approve such removal. Access must be granted to the board member to perform such inspection.

A restoration phase may be required if the remediation phase has resulted in the removal of materials from the property. This may take place some significant time after the initial repair and remediation to allow proper drying to occur and arrangements for the restoration to be made. The Condominium Corporation will hire contractors to perform such work. These contractors are always under the direction and control of the Corporation. Suite owners are advised they are not to negotiate any terms or conditions related to this work with the Corporation's hired contractor.

The Condominium Corporation will only pay for the cost of the restoration if the work is performed by contractors hired by the Corporation, its Agents or Insurers under the Corporation's control. A suite owner may wish to perform the portion of the restoration work that is not common property themselves, or hire their own contractors to do so; should this occur the corporation will not pay nor grant any credit for these costs incurred by the suite owner.

Suite owners whether it is a rental suite or an owner occupied will need to grant and arrange reasonable access to the suite for the restoration work to proceed. Restoration work over one thousand dollars will generally not proceed until the board has approved the expense. This approval will not generally be denied however could be delayed until there is a resolution of any dispute between the parties.

20.0 Flooring Policy

Policy Goals: The purpose of this policy to provide standards for hardwood, laminate, or tiled flooring with the goal of ensuring adjacent suites are not impacted.

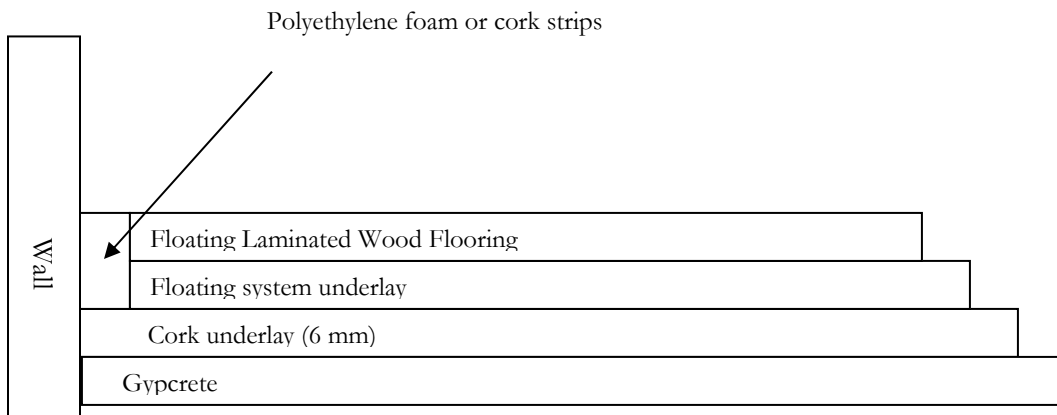

Section 1: Issues with flooring: The primary issue with flooring in condominium units is noise transmission. The best buffer against noise transmission from suite to suite is the standard carpet and foam underlay that every suite in the complex which originally provided with. However, some units have taken it upon themselves without the permission of the board to install hardwood, laminates, or tiles on their floors. This has resulted in numerous adjoining suites having major impacts to their liveability and to their resale value. Many of these problems are related to inadequate use of underlay materials below the hardwood, laminate or tile. This document provides some minimum guidelines as to underlay standards. This does not guarantee that hard flooring will not cause a problem but it does allow having a much better chance of a liveable installation. This problem has been exacerbated by improper advice from building suppliers that thin sheets of foam material are sufficient underlay which is patently false.

Section 2: Risk to Suite Owners: Suite owners are responsible for every thing they do in this complex; this includes the installation of hard flooring materials. The bylaws state you cannot create a noise situation that negatively impacts your neighbor's units. Owners that do so could be liable for fines from the corporation, potential orders to remove offending materials, and may also be civilly liable should an adjacent suite owner wish to file suit due to the impact on their unit. Should owners not follow the board recommended guideline of using carpet with foam underlay for their floors all liability related to that installation is assumed by the suite owner. In addition, should if common property failure damages hardwood, laminate, or tiled flooring the corporation will only provide restoration to the materials installed in the suite during original construction of the unit. The corporation and its board assumes no liability nor makes any guarantees as to use of the standard contained in this document, the suite owner is completely liable for the installation.

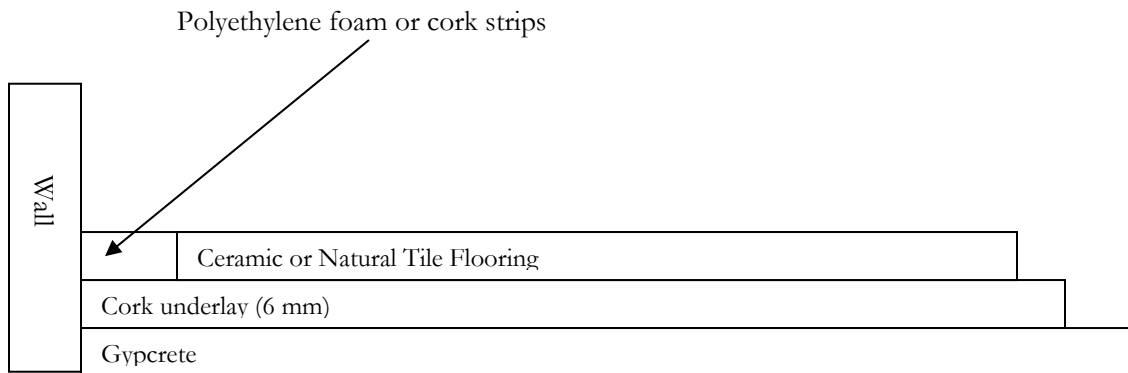

Section 3: Flooring Standard for laminate: The most critical part of the installation of laminate flooring is the underlay and surrounding isolation envelope. Suite owners should budget for proper overlay; it will be a significant cost, perhaps more than the hard surface material itself.

Floor base: The floor base material is Gypcrete and is common property. No nailing can be done into this surface, as it is brittle and can be damaged, reducing the value for both buffering sound and fire resistance. Gypcrete is very porous (water flows through) therefore the use of mortar or adhesive may cause issues and should be avoided.

Underlay: All underlay installations should achieve a minimum IIC (Impact Insulation Class) rating of 100. Meeting this standard will require a 6-mm cork subfloor plus standard underlay. In addition, Polyethylene foam or cork strips must be used to isolate the laminate from the walls or piping.

Section 4: Flooring Standard for tile: Due to the extremely rigid nature of this type of flooring, it should only be considered for installation in the entryway, kitchen, bathroom, or utility / laundry room areas. A 6-mm layer of cork Underlay is required.

Section 5: Flooring Standard for hardwood: Due to the thickness of this type of flooring in conjunction with the amount of sound buffer that would be required, it is recommended it not be used here as it very likely will cause problems with the heating registers.

Section 6: Hard Flooring Edging: It is important that any rigid flooring does not rigidly touch walls, columns, or any pipes penetrating the floor, to prevent direct contact with the building structure. A 12 mm (1/2 inch) thick continuous resilient material such as polyethylene foam or cork strips must be vertically attached to the base of the wall or column before installing the new flooring. Pipes protruding from the floor must be wrapped with the same resilient material.

Section 7: Gypcrete protection: The gypcrete or concrete floor is common property. Flooring cannot be nailed, screwed, glued, mortared, or otherwise attached to the gypcrete or concrete floor under any circumstances. The unit owner will be held fully responsible for all damage to the gypcrete or concrete floor.

21.0 Pets on Common Property Controls

Issue: Major Grass kill has occurred next to the front entrances and numerous patios due to pet urine. Because of the severe winter, some areas of grass have been completely sterilized by pets and will not grow grass requiring additional remedial action and chemical treatment.

To prevent this from occurring in the future the following initiatives have been enacted:

- A ban on all pets from the center grass area to allow the grass to recover and to reserve the area for children to play without the risk of encountering animal waste.
- Remediation will be performed as required on those sites next to patios that have been damaged and the owner in question will be charged the full of cost of that work.
- Dogs must be taken off the property to use the bathroom. Dogs may not use any part of the common property as a bathroom.
- Pets on the common property whether outside or inside the buildings must always be on a hand leash and under control of their owners.
- Violation of these rules carries a $100 Fine with exception of those issues covered under the Pet Refuse which shall be billed to the suite owner.

22.0 Enhanced Fire Safety Policy

Policy Goals: The purpose of this policy to enhance the fire safety within the building to keep residents and property safe and is based on information and onsite visits from Fire Department.

All residents need to ensure they are full compliance with these Fire Safety Rules. The board will act against those suites that do not comply with these rules. Your personal safety and the safety of your property was the paramount concern in all these decisions.

Section 1: A strict limit of only one propane tank not exceeding 20 pounds will be permitted on balconies or patios. Tanks must be equipped with the new double safe valves and have tip over protection. Please note: You cannot store a propane tank inside the building, in the Parkade, in a vehicle in the Parkade, or any where on the common property. Empty or not it is illegal and you can expect to be dealt with severely.

Section 2: Control of smoking materials: a fine of $500 for the first incidence of disposing of smoking materials off balconies, patios, or in common garbage receptacles will be levied against suite owners and $1000 fine for any subsequent incidents. In addition to any fines against the owner, should their tenant be charged with this offence more than once the matter will be referred to the board for consideration of eviction. If the owner is charged with this offence more than once, the matter will be referred to the board for consideration of court action including possible eviction. Smoking materials must never be disposed of in flower pots.

Section 3: A ban has been adopted on the use of all peat, solid fertilizer, and any organic material other than clean black soil in flower pots and boxes on balconies and patios due to the fire hazard. In addition, at the end of the summer season all plant material must be cleaned from all flower pots and boxes. Flower pots or boxes may not be placed against the vinyl siding.

Section 4: All barbeques whether they be natural gas, propane, or electric must be placed so they do not back up against the vinyl siding or lattice panels. They must be placed so that they back against the steel railing on balconies or open areas on patios as far away from the vinyl siding or lattice panels as possible.

Section 5: All heating appliances be they propane, natural gas, or electrically powered are banned from all balconies or patios. Failure to comply will be referred to the board for enforcement action.

Section 6: The use of Incendiary Devices is not permitted. Any ignition or use in any way of any incendiary device such as any type of fireworks, sparkler, fire cracker, or any other such device will result in a fine of $1000 against the suite owner per incident or device. If the offending party is a tenant or guest of a tenant, then eviction proceedings may be initiated. All legal and court fees incurred by the board for these proceedings will be levied against the suite owner. If the offending party is an owner the matter will be referred to the board to consider further action in addition to the above stated fines including potential application to the Alberta Courts for eviction.

Section 7: The use of charcoal barbeques, wood stoves, or any other device fueled by a burning fuel is not permitted anywhere on this property except for those devices listed in Section 4 of this policy and that are in compliance with the Alberta Fire Code. The storage of fuels or starter for such devices is not permitted anywhere in this complex. The use of such devices or the storage of fuels or starter anywhere on the common or private property in this complex carries a fine of $1000 per incident and in the case of a rental tenant eviction may be considered.

Section 8: You have right to appeal your fine to the board. Any unit owner upon receipt of a letter notifying them of fines or penalties levied against their unit due to violations of this policy may within 30 days from the date of the letter appeal the fines or penalties in writing to the board. The board will notify the suite owner in writing of its decision at its earliest convenience.

23.0 Electric Vehicles

Policy Goals: Our complex does not have the electrical infrastructure or the metering equipment to support electric vehicles.

Section 1: The charging of electric vehicles will not be permitted in the Bridlewood Pointe of View complex. Should any resident be caught doing so the suite will be billed a monthly electrical surcharge of $200 added to their condominium fees.

Any one considering purchase of an electric vehicle should contact the board if they have any questions

24.0 Pet Registration Policy

The board acknowledges that many residents of the complex wish to have a pet. The board has the power and the responsibility as specified by the bylaws to require registration of all pets, and to grant, deny, or withdraw approval of the privilege to have a pet. Pet ownership in a condominium is a privilege not a right, and the board will not reasonably deny such privilege should the conditions placed there upon be fulfilled.

All residents wishing to keep a pet in the complex, must file a pet registration with the board. The board will then review the registration and will generally approve it if no unresolved issues are present in the case in question.

Please note: No dog registrations will be accepted from rental units as of Sept. 25, 2012. Dogs are not permitted in rental units. Any rental units with valid dog registrations prior to that date will be grandfathered.

Pit bulls which includes American Pit Bull Terriers, American Staffordshire Terriers, Staffordshire Bull Terriers, Bull Terriers, or any mix thereof will no longer be allowed to kept or be present anywhere in this complex.

Dogs will be limited to 20 kilograms and under, and only two dogs per suite will be permitted as of May 1, 2017. Any dogs in suites having more than two dogs or a dog above 20kg which have been accepted for registration by this date will be grandfathered for their natural lives.

Should an unregistered pet have a complaint registered against it, the board will investigate and if it is a valid complaint, will order the animal removed immediately at the board's discretion.

Should the board withdraw the approval for a pet, the board will notify the owner by letter and grant a 30-day period for the animal to be removed. A suite owner may appeal a removal order by written notification (email is acceptable), and such removal will be stayed until the board decides on the appeal.

Residents who bring a pet into the complex are required to register the animal no later than 48 hours after its arrival in the property.

All unregistered pets must be removed as March 31, 2012 any unregistered pet found on the property after this date will be ordered removed immediately at the board's discretion.

Pets that are subject to registration are: Dogs, Cats, Rabbits, Snakes, and any other animal larger than 1kg.

Any suite owner that does not remove the pet within 30 days of the removal order being issued will be fined $250, and an additional $250 for each additional month that the pet remains anywhere in the complex.

The board at its discretion may also seek a court order if it deems necessary to facilitate an animal's removal, all legal charges and expenses will be billed to the suite owner.

25.0 Smoking Illegal Materials on Common Property

The bylaws of the condominium corporation ban all illegal activities on the common property including the balconies and patios. This policy imposes a fine to be charged to the suite owner for any resident or guest smoking marijuana or other illegal materials on all common property including balconies or patios in the amount of $250 for the first offence, $500 for a second offence, and $1000 for all third and all subsequent offences. The board will also consider a motion of eviction for all tenants having three or more of these offences during their tenancy. A resident or owner may appeal this fine in writing to the board.

26.0 Abuse of Bike Racks

Abuse of bike racks: Some people are using the bike racks as permanent storage for their bikes denying anyone else access. Thus, the board has set a maximum 7 nights in row a bike may be in the rack at which time any lock will be cut-off and the bike will be impounded. The bike will be returned with payment of 40 dollar fine.

Any bikes which have not been claimed within 3 months of impoundment and any outstanding fines paid upon will disposed of permanently at the board's discretion.

27.0 Delinquent Accounts Policy

Policy Goals: The policy is to set forth the consequences of being delinquent on condominium accounts including all condominium fees, fines, special assessments and any other valid charges.

Section 1: Delinquency: Any charge on a suite account will be considered delinquent sixty days after it has been posted to the suite's account. In addition, a charge will be considered delinquent as well if any interest that has been posted to account due to the outstanding charges are also not paid in full. There will be no enforcement on 60 day delinquent accounts where the outstanding amount is under $25 dollars.

Section 2: Consequences: Any suite that is delinquent will have their guest pass privileges suspended. Should the guest pass appear in visitor parking during a time a guest pass is required the suite owner will be charged a $40 fine per day.

Any suite that is delinquent will not be permitted to utilize visitor parking at any time of the day or night. Should any vehicle associated with the residents be parked in visitor parking at any time of the day or night they will be fined $40 per day.

Any suite that is delinquent will have their right to intercom panel updates suspended.

The board at it's option retains the right to take legal action to collect unpaid charges, and all the costs of any such action will be charged to the suite's account.

In addition, the proceedings that can occur with unpaid condominium fees will continue as per normal, which can include caveats, demand letters, and foreclosures.

Section 3: Reinstatement: The rights suspended under this policy will not be reinstated until all delinquent charges including interest are paid in and full and all outstanding charges on the account are paid including any outstanding special assessments or condominium monthly maintenance fees.

28.0 Vandalism Policy

Policy Goals: The purpose of this policy is to make clear to all residents the actions the board will take in cases of vandalism. Vandalism costs all our residents money and wastes the time and resources of the condominium complex and the board.

Section 1: Vandalism: Vandalism no matter how small will not be tolerated. Defacing or stealing board notices is Vandalism. Destroying or marking up the walls is Vandalism. Wilfully damaging or defacing any of the common property is Vandalism.

Section 2: Policy Enforcement: Anytime Vandalism occurs to the common property the following will occur:

- Evidence will be gathered and provided to the police to allow charges to be laid.
- A fine of a maximum of $1000 will levied against the suite owner for any resident residing in that suite or their guests who vandalizes the common property for each incident.
- In addition to any fines the owner of the suite where the resident residing in that suite or their guests who have vandalized the common property will be billed the full cost of the repairs, and administration charges to correct the vandalism.
- If the resident or their guests vandalizes the common property and that resident is a rental tenant, immediate eviction proceedings will occur. The cost of all eviction proceedings will be billed to the suite owner where the resident is a tenant.

Section 3: Rented or leased units: Should the person violating this policy be a tenant in a rented or leased unit, the owner of the unit will be held fully responsible for the payment of any fines or bills levied under this policy.
